What made you apply for the position?

I applied for this position because I would love to learn more about being a visual assistant and I would be happy to contribute my skills and experiences to Pathcutters and their clients.

Why do you think you are suitable for the position?

I think I am suitable for this position because I have experience in managing social media accounts and creating social media content for two brands in the company I used to work for. My responsibilities included coordinating with customers and collaborators, copy writing, and creating graphic design visuals for Facebook, Instagram, and their e-commerce websites.

I am open to learning new things. I am flexible, organized, resourceful, and creative. I believe I was able to demonstrate these skills in my previous employment and freelance works in which I am able to create illustrations, brand identity materials, and social media content on a limited budget and I was able to submit them before deadlines.

If you could travel anywhere in the world (for a holiday), where would you go and why (at least 80 words in length)?

I would love to go to Japan. I am interested in Japanese culture, especially their pop culture, modern literature, art, and philosophy.

There is something about their aesthetics that appeal to me, especially the concepts such as wabi-sabi and minimalism. I am also a big fan of their literature, from manga to modern fiction such as the works of Natsume Soseki and Banana Yoshimoto. Their culture and identity is so diverse and distinct, and they were able to gracefully juxtapose both their modern and traditional sensibilities.

If I ever get the chance to visit Japan, I would like to visit Tokyo and Kyoto. I want to visit Tokyo so that I can immerse in their pop culture scene, and I want to visit Kyoto to learn more about their history and tradition.

If you could meet anyone in the world, who would it be and why (at least 80 words in length)?

I would love to meet Greta Thunberg. I admire how proactive and courageous she is at a young age and how she has this positive outlook that her Asperger's syndrome is actually beneficial to achieving her goals. If I were given the opportunity to talk to her, I would love to hear her thoughts on what we, Filipinos, can do to save the planet from climate crisis.

Generally, I admire people who are proactive. In this generation, I think Greta Thunberg demonstrates that quality really well. Her actions give me hope that things will be moving in a better direction as long as people are willing to work together for a greater, humanitarian goal. She is able to balance her idealism with action, and that is something I would love to see in myself and other people.

What is your favorite form of social media? (at least 80 words in length)?

My favorite form of social media is Facebook because it is intuitive, interactive, and user-friendly. Most of the people that I know in real life, from Gen Z to baby boomers, are capable of using Facebook. It makes me happy to be able to connect with a diverse group of people.

I like how various forms of media such as text, GIFs, photos, and videos, can easily be accessed. The profile pages can be customized in a way that you would like to present yourself to your friends. You can highlight your favorite photos, add your current location, job, and relationship status, and even add a short quote or motto.

Sharing and commenting is more convenient compared to other social media platforms, because it can be organized by date posted or the relevance of the post, and you can see the replies directly under the user's comments.

iPhone or Android and Why? (at least 80 words in length)?

I personally prefer Android because it is the operating system that I have been using. I don't have a lot of experience in using iPhone, but I think both systems have their own strengths.

I prefer Android because it is more flexible with the apps that it can use and it is quite low maintenance. Ever since I've had a smart phone, Android has been their operating system, and I am happy with it so far. However, iPhone exceeds in terms of graphics and typography, and they offer apps that make it convenient for designers to create and illustrate visual content.
