What is one of your worst pet peeves?

The worst pet peeves would be interrupting me when I say something important just to be able to cut in and totally ignored what I just said when I'm in a social circle or in a social party that I am attending. It makes me feel that my opinion do not matter or just even my say in the matter is being invalidated. The audacity to cut me off and not even feel sorry even though they heard me speaking is rude and disrespectful. Moreover, it makes me feel that I am not welcome into that party or in that conversation and it makes me uncomfortable. It makes me feel annoyed that they are continuously interrupting me every time I say something in the topic or just trying to converse. It is a social etiquette that all of us would know and understand. It is being polite and welcoming thing to do by paying attention to the people who are speaking.

What advice would you give your 15-year old self?

The advice that I will give to my 15-year old self is to just live life to the fullest. Furthermore, Do not worry of the future because the future will worry about itself and you would just need to focus in the present so that you will not be anxious and just enjoy your teenage years. Having fun with friends is what makes it more memorable and you can say in your adult life that you are indeed enjoy your youth. It is also refreshing sometimes to spend time with your friends or family and do not lock yourself in a room and stay in your ideal world and most importantly do not be hard on yourself when things did not go your way because if it is meant to you, it will come to you.
