You're a new addition to the crayon box. What color would you be and why?

I would choose to be the white color simply because it is pure and unstained. Personally, I can compare myself to the white color in a way that I am myself and I consider it as a good thing. I don't just go with the flow and do what society tells me to be. In this world where too much color is representing chaos, I will serve as the peacemaker that brings pureness and calmness into people's lives, and soon enough unto a larger group of people called society.

What's the greatest advice that you didn't take?

The greatest advice that was given to me that I'm glad I didn't take was to take a course in college that I personally don't like. Choosing what course to study is a very important part of your life and growth as an individual. I believe that even at such a young age we can still make our own decisions and take the path that would make us happy and at the same time let us grow and become mature.
