What new skill did you learn while in quarantine?

In the quarantine period I have learned valuable skills that can surely help me and apply it on my daily life. One the skills I have learned is being productive amidst of the tough situation we have right now. I had shift my energy in being productive rather than being at home doing nothing or idling. So, in the quarantine period I discovered myself being productive by first, doing the household chores since I have a large free time. Then, being able to manage an online business like selling stuff through different types of platforms like Shopee, Lazada, and on social media. In that way I gained an income to support our needs while I'm looking for a permanent job. Also, I enrolled myself in a vocational 160 hours course which is Contact Center Services which helped me boost my confidence and English communication skills which leads me to apply on a call center for my first job. Being a call center agent helped me acquire skills that a call center agent possess which is being punctual, patient, flexible, organized, and multi-tasking.

Tell us about your all-time favorite movie.

I have many favorite movies to tell right now because I love watching movies during my free time. Watching blockbuster movies really gets me every time and it doesn't matter if its old classic or new movies. For me, my all-time favorite movie for now is the Avenger's Endgame because first it is a Marvel Movie and I'm really a Marvel Fan. Second, Marvel Studios is really doing a great job in making a sequel to the previous events of the story. Also, the story is very interesting and it isn't boring to watch. Lastly, the effects and the fight scenes are well orchestrated. By the way, my favorite Marvel superhero is Spider-man.
