

1.If anything was possible, what would your dream job be, and why?

If anything was possible, my dream job would be to be a flight attendant. It has been my childhood dream because I think as cliché as this may sound, there's really nothing more fulfilling than to be able to do the job that you love, while also traveling the world while being paid at the same time. Another reason is that I always saw flight attendants growing up on television and seeing them in uniform, all groomed up really excites me and makes me say, "I want to wear a flight attendant uniform one day too."

2. Have you ever experienced a stressful situation in your past workplace (college if fresh graduate), what was it and how did you overcome it?

I experienced a stressful situation when I was assigned as the chairperson for our MICE Class. It was a stressful situation for me since it was my first time to be assigned to such a big role and big responsibilities while expected to deliver the best output in a short time. We also had other classes to attend and cannot just focus on the event preparation solely. Another reason was that all the preparations for the event needed to be done online due to COVID restrictions while the event was in a face-to-face setting. Lastly, I was not only dealing with my classmates as my team members but also with another course and section since it was a joint subject. Given all these factors, I overcome it by giving my best in collaborating with my team, exhausting all resources possible, and managing my time effectively.

3. In your previous position, what task did you find most challenging and why? What task did you enjoy most and why?

In my internship, the task that I found most challenging was to be assigned to the housekeeping department in which I was tasked to help the attendants clean the room. It was a challenging experience for me since that was the first department I was assigned to, and I had no proper training or knowledge about housekeeping. I also had a cold during that time, and I had to roam around a 11.4-hectare resort for 10 hours under the sun or rain, just cleaning the rooms along with the room attendants. On the other hand, the task that I enjoyed the most was being assigned to the recreation department. In the recreation department, I get to interact with guests, especially with kids, and I get to try the resort's water sports activities and try the other sports (e.g., Archery and Wall Climbing) as part of my job and tasks under the department.

4. How would your previous managers/coworkers describe you?

I think my previous supervisors during my internship and the college department head would describe me as a responsible, hardworking, flexible, and kind student-intern. I always make sure to deliver whatever is assigned to me on time and with my hundred percent best. I am also able to catch up quickly to a new set of responsibilities and tasks and can work with minimal supervision.

5. What personal or professional accomplishments are you most proud of?

The personal accomplishment that I am most proud of is to actually graduate with Latin Honors as well as being a consistent honor student from elementary. I am proud of this accomplishment because I know that I made my mom happy during her last days and she saw me come up on stage and wear the medal. Also, it is really fulfilling on my part because I know that my hard work and being consistent really paid off.
